

CALL FOR PAPERS

ICCVMOHA 2020
Feb 17-18, 2020
Male, Maldives

The International Research Conference is a federated organization dedicated to bringing together a significant number of diverse scholarly events for presentation within the conference program. Events will run over a span of time during the conference depending on the number and length of the presentations.

ICCVMOHA 2020 : International Conference on Communication in Veterinary Medicine and One-Health Approach is the premier interdisciplinary forum for the presentation of new advances and research results in the fields of Communication in Veterinary Medicine and One-Health Approach. The conference will bring together leading academic scientists, researchers and scholars in the domain of interest from around the world. Topics of interest for submission include, but are not limited to:

Veterinarian-client-patient communication
Interprofessional communication
Research, education or practice initiatives to enhance communication between human and veterinary medicine
Teaching and assessing clinical communication skills
Basic and applied research in veterinary and medical communication
Communication research methods
Communication, well-being, and resilience in healthcare
Authentic, affirmative, and courageous presence
High performance health care
Relationship-centered care
Cross-cultural communication

Narrative medicine
Interprofessional communication teaching and learning
One health communication
How to sustain a communication program
Ethical communication issues
Client / patient participation and perspective
Application and maintenance of communication skills learned in training programs
Leading change in education and practice
Collegial communication
Team communication
Technology and clinical communication