

CALL FOR PAPERS

ICSEL 2020
Feb 17-18, 2020
Male, Maldives

The International Research Conference is a federated organization dedicated to bringing together a significant number of diverse scholarly events for presentation within the conference program. Events will run over a span of time during the conference depending on the number and length of the presentations.

ICSEL 2020 : International Conference on Studies of Endangered Languages is the premier interdisciplinary forum for the presentation of new advances and research results in the fields of Studies of Endangered Languages. The conference will bring together leading academic scientists, researchers and scholars in the domain of interest from around the world. Topics of interest for submission include, but are not limited to:

Endangered languages
Language endangerment and endangered languages
Types and extent of language endangerment
Attitude of governments and majority language speakers feel about language endangerment
Policy and planning of endangered languages
Documentation of endangered languages

Preservation and/or revitalization of endangered languages
Databases of endangered languages
Structure of endangered languages and their relevance for the field of theoretical linguistics and language typology
Education on endangered languages
Strategies and learning tools for endangered languages