

CALL FOR PAPERS

ICDAL 2020
Mar 12-13, 2020
Miami, USA

The International Research Conference is a federated organization dedicated to bringing together a significant number of diverse scholarly events for presentation within the conference program. Events will run over a span of time during the conference depending on the number and length of the presentations.

ICDAL 2020 : International Conference on Digital American Literature is the premier interdisciplinary forum for the presentation of new advances and research results in the fields of Digital American Literature. The conference will bring together leading academic scientists, researchers and scholars in the domain of interest from around the world. Topics of interest for submission include, but are not limited to:

American literature and culture
American short story and travel writing
American theatre and drama
Contemporary literature
Comparative literature
Significance of speech and silence in American ethnic literature Postmodern denigration and appraisal of various senses
American religion and literature
Poetry and prose
Literature and environment

Gender studies and related topics
Children's literature
Morphology and syntax
Comics and graphic narrative circle
Digital American literature
Periods of American literature
American women writers
Midwestern literature
Southern literature
Transnational studies related topics