

CALL FOR PAPERS

ICDJS 2020
Aug 06-07, 2020
Amsterdam, The Netherlands

The International Research Conference is a federated organization dedicated to bringing together a significant number of diverse scholarly events for presentation within the conference program. Events will run over a span of time during the conference depending on the number and length of the presentations.

ICDJS 2020 : International Conference on Digital Journalism Studies is the premier interdisciplinary forum for the presentation of new advances and research results in the fields of Digital Journalism Studies. The conference will bring together leading academic scientists, researchers and scholars in the domain of interest from around the world. Topics of interest for submission include, but are not limited to:

Digital journalism

Digital media and the future of journalism

Social media as sources and drivers of news

The changing 'places' and 'spaces' of news production and consumption in the context of digital media

News on the move and mobile telephony

The personalization of news

Business models for funding digital journalism in the digital economy

Developments in data journalism and data visualization

New research methods to analyze and explore digital journalism

Hyperlocalism and new understandings of community journalism

Changing relationships between journalists, sources and audiences

Citizen and participatory journalism

Machine written news and the automation of journalism

The history and evolution of online journalism

Changing journalism ethics in a digital setting

New challenges and directions for journalism education and training

Digital journalism, protest and democracy

Journalists' changing role perceptions

Wikileaks and novel forms of investigative journalism