

CALL FOR PAPERS

ICIRMW 2022
Jun 21-22, 2022
Venice, Italy

The International Research Conference is a federated organization dedicated to bringing together a significant number of diverse scholarly events for presentation within the conference program. Events will run over a span of time during the conference depending on the number and length of the presentations.

ICIRMW 2022 : International Conference on International Relations in the Modern World is the premier interdisciplinary forum for the presentation of new advances and research results in the fields of International Relations in the Modern World. The conference will bring together leading academic scientists, researchers and scholars in the domain of interest from around the world. Topics of interest for submission include, but are not limited to:

International relations and foreign policy

Theories of international relations and their reflections

Levels of analysis and applications to the real world problems

Institutions in international relations

Regional studies

Asymmetric threats and state security

Effects of non-governmental actors on the international system

Humanitarian intervention and sovereignty

International migration studies, irregular migration and the issue of refugees

State and non-state actors and their social media usage

International organizations against global/regional issues

Global armament/disarmament and stability of the international system

Islamic thought in Middle Eastern and Islamic movements

Radicalism and extremism

Social movements and the international system

Contemporary discussions in international security studies

The pursuit of strategic balance in the international system

Regional conflicts and crisis management

Energy, the environment and climate change

Ethnic and sectarian conflicts

Cyber security in international relations

Politico-economic competition in the international system

Methods for resolution of legal and commercial contradictions in the international

System

System

Contemporary discussions on the theories of international relations and changing

Geopolitical conditions

Geopolitical conditions

