

CALL FOR PAPERS

ICISM 2022
Oct 04-05, 2022
Tbilisi, Georgia

The International Research Conference is a federated organization dedicated to bringing together a significant number of diverse scholarly events for presentation within the conference program. Events will run over a span of time during the conference depending on the number and length of the presentations.

ICISM 2022 : International Conference on International Security Management is the premier interdisciplinary forum for the presentation of new advances and research results in the fields of International Security Management. The conference will bring together leading academic scientists, researchers and scholars in the domain of interest from around the world. Topics of interest for submission include, but are not limited to:

International security
Global security
Current and common security problems
Advances in international security studies
International security studies
Security management and safety
International strategies and policies
Relation between national and international securities
Military action and diplomatic agreements
Treaties and conventions
Case studies
Stability of the states' system
International threats for human life

Religious conservatism
Terrorist activities
Civil wars and their impacts of international area
The multi-sum security principle
Theoretical approaches to international security
Realism: classical realism and neorealism
Liberalism, economic liberalism, and liberal institutionalism
Comparison between realism and liberalism
Constructivism
International human security
Force, nuclear proliferation, military strategy, intelligence and distribution of resources
Democratic peace theory
Peace and conflict studies